How to Play

RULES & OVERVIEW

Cover treat names on your card as the caller draws them. First to complete a full line — across, down, or corner-to-corner — shouts “BROBOTS!” and wins the round. One kit, two lanes, every age at the table.

Kids’ Lane

Playful, warm, bright. Cookies · pudding · muffins · fudge squares. Ages 4+ with adult supervision.

Adults’ Lane

A touch more grown-up. Rich chocolate shots & deeper recipes. Grown-ups only — enjoyed responsibly.

Set up

- 1 Print one bingo card per player — pick 4×4, 5×5, 6×6, or 8×8 to match your crowd.
- 2 Cut out the calling cards and drop them in a bag or hat.
- 3 Hand out marker chips (punch-outs, beans, or buttons — adult supervised).
- 4 Pick a caller and set out a small prize for the winner.

Each round

- 1 The caller draws one treat and announces it clearly — repeat it for younger players.
- 2 Players find that treat on their card and cover it with a chip.
- 3 Keep drawing, one treat at a time, no peeking at the pile.
- 4 First to cover a full line — across, down, or corner-to-corner — shouts “BROBOTS!”
- 5 Check the covered squares against the called treats, celebrate, then clear the cards for a new round.

Play it responsibly

The Adults’ Lane is for grown-ups only — if a recipe is spiked, keep it 21+ and sip, don’t gulp. Supervise young players, watch small markers as choking hazards, and mind food allergies. This kit is for entertainment; enjoy treats in moderation.

FACILITATOR TIPS

Read names with flair

Say each treat clearly and with a little Brobots energy — younger players love the repeat.

Pace the draw

Leave a beat between calls so everyone can scan their card. No rushing the pile.

Prizes that fit

Stickers, a treat from the recipe pack, or “choose tonight’s round.” Offer a non-food option too.

Laminate to reuse

Laminate cards and use dry-erase markers, or print fresh for single-use party fun.

Mix the grid sizes

Short on time? Play 4×4. Big group settling in? Break out 6×6 or 8×8 party mode.

Keep the deck honest

Set called cards aside face-up so you can verify a winning line at a glance.

Two lanes, one night

Run the Kids’ Lane early with cookie & pudding prizes, then switch to the Adults’ Lane later for the grown-up chocolate-shot rounds. Same cards, same call deck — just swap the treats and the tier.

Allergy & Safety

READ BEFORE YOU PLAY

Adult supervision

An adult runs the game, the scissors, and the stove for every recipe. Ages 4+ for the Kids' Lane.

Choking hazards

Small markers (beans, buttons, chips) are not for little mouths. Use paper markers for the youngest players.

Food allergies

Recipes contain milk, eggs, nuts and gluten. Check for allergies, offer swaps, and label treats at the table.

The Adults' Lane

Grown-ups only. If a shot is spiked it's 21+ — serve responsibly, never to minors, and never drink and drive.

Moderation

It's a chocolate game — treats are a treat. Enjoy in moderation and mind sugar for the little ones.
